Creating Success For All Learners

Sean Lougheed - Director of Educational Services - Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment

Wolf Creek Public School Division has a holistic approach to career exploration which interconnects dual credit programing, CTS,CTF, off-campus education as well as career exploration as a part of curriculum integration for K-6 learners. Wolf Creek is also a part of the Central Alberta Collegiate and as a division we believe strongly in inter-jurisdictional collaboration for capacity, sustainability and program diversity.

Three key features in WCPS that support our Dual Credit programming are:

- A strong centralized structure for dual credit and off-campus programing.
- Inter-jurisdictional and external partner collaboration
- Flexibility and innovative programming that can adapt to both the needs of students and industry. Additionally this adaptability is critical to long term sustainability for both programming and organizational capacity retention.

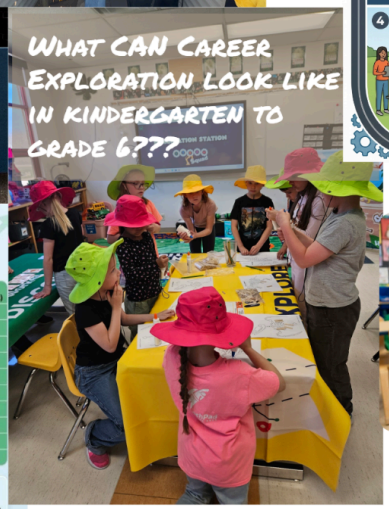

One key leadership insight that has been critical to WCPS and we would suggest to others jurisdiction is that collaboration and capacity building are key. Over the past decade we have seen numerous challenges and shifts which have decreased the jurisdiction's ability to offer dual credit programming. Through collaborative partnership new opportunities have been leveraged and capacity grown through inter-connection. WCPS has been fortunate to have had incredible partnership however this has been intentionally sought and cannot be left to happen organically.
